Find a chair and you can stay, But if you don't you'll go away.
The last survives another day... POP GOES THE WEASEL

JACK IN THE BOX

When six university students, hungry for fame and fortune, are invited to audition for a new reality game show, they instead find themselves trapped and competing for their lives in a deadly game of musical chairs.

Hosted by Junior, a deformed serial killer with a tortured past, the rules of the game are terrifyingly simple... sit you live, stand you die. Every ten minutes the children's tune "Pop Goes the Weasel" signals the start of another round and a desperate struggle among Junior's guests to claim a chair and save their lives. But only one can survive the game, and the contestants are methodically eliminated until the last chair remains... with the last player alive.

Unfolding in real-time, Jack in the Box is a gripping study in psychological terror suitable for horror fans of almost any age. Junior's is the ultimate sick-and-twisted party game; a life-and-death contest featuring a surprise ending guaranteed to shock you.
